The EPCC Counseling Center provides short-term personal counseling. A referral will be made if the counselor determines that a student needs additional long-term counseling.

Who is Eligible?

If you are currently enrolled at EPCC you are eligible for personal counseling and referral services.

Making an Appointment

Students should call or stop by any EPCC Counseling Center to make an appointment.

Cost

There is no cost for our counseling services.

Privacy and Confidentiality

The EPCC Counseling Center does everything possible to protect the confidentiality of the communication that takes place between you and the counselor. We will not disclose your contact with us to your spouse, parents, professors, or anyone else unless it is required by law. The following are a few exceptions:

1. When there is reason to believe that you may be at imminent risk of harming yourself or others.
2. When a court of law orders the release of information.
3. When there is reason to believe that a minor, elderly person or a person with a disability is in danger of being, or has been physically, sexually, or emotionally abused or neglected.
4. When a client discloses to their current counselor that a previous mental health provider was sexually inappropriate. (Upon the client’s request the client's own identity may remain anonymous.)
5. When a client is involved in a criminal lawsuit.
6. When a client is under the age of 18 additional rules of confidentiality may apply.
7. In addition, certain government agencies may ask applicants to sign an authorization for release of counseling records in order to be considered for employment or accreditation.
