Suggested Readings

Electrocochleography and low frequency harmonic acceleration in Meniere's disease. Clinical research of 31 cases of Meniere's disease using two electrophysiologic procedures, electrocochleography and low-frequency harmonic acceleration (HA). Table for criteria for selection of patients presenting with Meniere's disease. Tests for hearing loss and vertigo.