II. Course Objectives

Upon satisfactory completion of this course the student will be able to:

- A. Demonstrate the use of proper fingering, and hand position, and control on the keyboard through playing major and minor scales and primary triads appropriate to scales chosen.
- B. Sight read and play piano literature, solo, or in ensembles.
- Demonstrate an understanding of basic music symbols and terminology, basic rhythm patterns, notation and basic chords.

III. Evaluation

- A. Student evaluation will be based on the subjective appraisal by the instructor of student progress during the semester as shown in:
- 1. Two tests, formal or informal, covering notation, rhythm and harmony.
- 2. Instrumental performance and participation.
- 3. The performance of a composition selected by the instructor and the student, and of appropriate technical exercises, before a jury. This performance will be evaluated by the instructor with the advice of the jury.
- B. The course grade as determined above will be reduced one letter for excessive absences; by two letters for failing to appear for juried examination.
