- 5. Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between theories and research methods used in the scientific study of marriage and family.
- 6. Describe some of the historical changes and current trends regarding the structural nature of the American family including the role of gender in relationships.
- 7. Identify causes and consequences of relevant problems within contemporary families.

IV. Evaluation

Methods for course evaluation will be at the discretion of each instructor. Instructors may employ one or more of the following methods of evaluation:

- Exams and/or Quizzes (format and type is left to the instructor)
- Research Paper
- Short Paper Assignments (either in-class and/or take home)
- Participation in classroom debates/discussions
- Field projects/In-Class Projects/Research Activities

Each instructor is free to modify the standard college grading scale to suit their classes. Make-up and final examination policies are at the discretion of each instructor. However, classes will be held during finals/exam week and a “learning activity” will take place in each class during this week.

V. Disability Statement (American with/Disabilities Act [ADA])

EPCC offers a variety of services to persons with documented sensory, mental, physical, or temporary disabling conditions to promote success in classes. If you have a disability and believe you may need services, you are encouraged to contact the Center for Students with Disabilities to discuss your needs with a counselor. All discussions and documentation are kept confidential. Offices located: VV Rm C-112 (831-2426); TM Rm 1400 (831-5808); RG Rm B-201 (831-4198); NWC Rm M-54 (831-8815); and MDP Rm A-125 (831-7024).

VI. 6 Drop Rule

Students who began attending Texas public institutions of higher education for the first time during the Fall 2007 semester or later are subject to a 6-Drop limit for all undergraduate classes. Developmental, ESL, Dual Credit and Early College High School classes are exempt from this rule. All students should consult with their instructor before dropping a class. Academic assistance is available. Students are encouraged to see Counseling Services if dropping because exemptions may apply. Refer to the EPCC catalog and website for additional information.
