II. Course Objectives

This course is a continuation of DHYG 1215, Community Dentistry, and application of the principles and concepts of community public health and dental health education. It emphasizes community assessment, educational planning, implementation, and evaluation. It also reviews methods and materials used in teaching dental health education in various community settings, including, but not limited to, a school, geriatric center, or a special needs center. The capstone of the course will be to design, implement, and evaluate a community-based oral health service project that meets the specific needs of a targeted population using previously examined community assessment data and methodological frameworks discussed in DHYG 1215.

Upon satisfactory completion of this course, the student will be able to:

- A. Discuss the various successful dental health programs throughout the country, state, and local areas.
- B. Increase his/her awareness about the community in regard to public dental health.
- C. Explain what the various steps of the APIE (assessment, planning, implementation, and evaluation) process of a successful local dental health community program entail.
- D. Design and implement a community service project that emphasizes oral health prevention and promotion that is ethically and culturally sensitive and develop objectives that address the relationship between health status and individual behavior, health services, and social factors of the targeted population, as it relates to Healthy People 2020.
  - 1. Summarize scientific literature that enhances the project.
  - 2. Apply the assessment phase of establishing a community dentistry project by describing the main steps followed and key activities undertaken in a community oral health assessment.

- 3. Identify the specific stages of the planning cycle.
- 4. Use and apply appropriate statistical methodologies and dental indices to the design of the community project.
- A. Provide dental health education in a school-based setting, geriatric center, and/or special needs center, among others.
  - 1. Develop a lesson plan appropriate to the target population
- B. Score an 80% or better on a mock Community Dentistry National Board Exam.

III. THECB Learning Outcomes (WECM)

Develop, implement, and evaluate a community-based oral health program(s) to meet the needs of a target population(s).

IV. Evaluation

The grades will be divided into the coursework outlined below and combined to total 100% of the grade.

Pre-assessment: Not applicable

Post-assessment

- 1. Mock Community Dentistry National Board Exam: 5% of the grade
- 2. Individual Written Reflective Journal: 40% of the grade. Students will summarize their work in a structured reflective journal. The journal will include the different steps of the APIE process applied to the design of the community project as well as summaries of five subject-based articles on the project topic of their choice. The final section will include a self-reflection of the entire project. Student will follow the handout provided for the formatting of the journal entries and email to instructor on due date.
- 3. Individual Design of Two Lesson Plans for a Targeted Population: 10% of the grade. The lesson plans will be targeted, but not limited to, a school, geriatric center, or special needs center. Lesson plans are to be computer generated.
- 4. Group Community Project: 30% of the grade. The project will be designed according to Healthy People 2020 objectives and divided into the four areas of the APIE process.
- 5. Group PowerPoint Presentation to a Local Agency or Community Center: 15% of the grade

Grading Scale:

A = 100 - 93
